

Brookfield Primary School
Relationships Education Policy
February 2022

This policy was agreed by Governors on 26th November 2022 and will be reviewed in November 2024.

1. Purpose of the Policy

All primary schools are required to teach Relationships Education and to produce a Relationships Education policy.

The purpose of the policy is to:

- Give information to staff, parents and carers, governors, pupils and outside visitors about what is taught in Relationships Education, how it is taught and who teaches it
- Enable parents and carers to support their children in learning about Relationships Education
- Give a clear statement on what the school aims to achieve from Relationships Education, the values underpinning it and why it is compulsory for all primary school pupils
- Set out how Relationships Education meets schools' legal requirements to promote wellbeing (Children's Act 2004)
- Prepare children for the challenges, opportunities and responsibilities of adult life (Education Act 2006)
- Meet the school's safeguarding obligations
- Comply with the Equality Act 2010 to prevent discrimination, harassment and victimisation, advance equality of opportunity and foster good relations between different groups

The policy also includes a statement on Sex Education which covers a definition, what is taught, who teaches it and parents right to withdraw.

2. Development of the School Policy

This policy was developed by a working group with representation from Senior Leaders, staff, parents and carers and governors, and involved consultation with the wider staff group, parents and carers. We also consulted with Camden Learning.

Our working group organised a series of consultations with:

- Parents and carers
- Governing body
- Staff

We have taken account of the:

- Statutory guidance on Relationships Education, RSE and Health Education (DfE February 2019)
- Camden's example Relationships Education policy (September 2021)
- Equality Act 2010 and the Public Sector Duty
- Review of Sexual Abuse in Schools and Colleges (Ofsted, June 2021)

3. Links to Other Policies

This policy links to our Safeguarding and Child Protection policy, Behaviour policy, Anti-Bullying policy, Equality policy and Online Safety policy.

Our provision of Relationships Education is part of our approach to supporting the health and wellbeing of children.

4. Definition of Relationships Education

The requirements for teaching Relationships Education in primary are described in the DfE statutory guidance and based on the guidance. We have defined Relationships Education as learning about:

- Different relationships (including online) and how to make and maintain healthy, caring and respectful relationships within families and friendships, including understanding about respecting boundaries
- The importance of families for caring for children
- How to recognise when a relationship (with adults and/or peers) is unhealthy or unsafe and how to seek help and report concerns or abuse (including online)
- The importance of respecting others who are different from themselves whether physically, their family structure, their race, religion, belief, disability or sexual orientation
- Different types of bullying and discriminatory language, the impact it has and how to prevent it and get help
- Stereotypes and how they can lead to prejudice and discrimination e.g., based on gender, race, religion, disability or sexual orientation
- How to recognise risk and be safe online

5. Why Teach Relationships Education at Primary School?

The government has made Relationships Education a statutory part of the curriculum and we agree that this is a crucial aspect of the primary curriculum.

We want children to develop the skills to make positive, caring, respectful and healthy relationships, in their friendships, within their families and with other children and adults.

We recognise that many children in primary already have active online lives and that the knowledge and skills they learn in Relationships Education will enable them to navigate the online world safely and understand what is and is not appropriate and respectful behaviour.

Through Relationships Education, pupils also gain the knowledge they need to recognise and report abuse, including emotional, physical and sexual abuse and keep themselves safe, online and offline.

For all these important reasons, the government has made Relationships Education a compulsory part of the school curriculum in which all pupils are required to participate and parents do not have the right to withdraw them.

6. Values Promoted through Relationships Education

We are committed to creating an inclusive school that promotes diversity and equality and fundamental British Values*. Teaching Relationships Education will ensure that all children develop respect for others and for difference, and tolerance and understanding of all aspects of diversity. We want all children to understand and feel accepted in the society they are growing up in and for every child in Camden to thrive in modern Britain.

We believe that Relationships Education promotes the aims and values of our school which include:

- Respect for self and others
- Kindness and consideration for others
- Commitment, trust and love within relationships
- Promoting equality and respecting rights and responsibilities in relationships
- Respecting and celebrating difference and diversity
- Preventing prejudice and discrimination based on race, religion or belief, disability, sexual orientation, sex, gender reassignment, age** or any other perceived difference, whether based on appearance or circumstances.
- Promoting gender equality, challenging gender stereotypes and inequality
- Valuing family life and stable, loving and caring relationships, including marriage and civil partnerships, for bringing up children
- Everyone has the right to a healthy and safe relationship

* democracy, individual liberty, the rule of law and mutual respect and tolerance

**6 of 9 protected characteristics as enshrined in law through the Equality Act 2010

7. Aims for Relationships Education

Our Relationships Education programme aims to help children:

- Develop the confidence to talk about relationships
- Develop the skills to make and maintain healthy and respectful friendships and family relationships
- Recognise unhealthy or unsafe relationships, including online, with peers, within the family and with known or unknown adults
- Recognise the differences between appropriate and inappropriate or unsafe contact (with adults and/or peers), physical or otherwise, and to know how to report it and get help.
- Understand the importance of respecting others even when they are different from them
- Understand and respect different types of families, including families with one parent, with same sex parents, families that foster and adopt children
- Challenge and prevent discrimination based on difference, e.g., race, religion or belief, sex, gender identity, disability or sexual orientation
- Recognise bullying and discriminatory language based on race, religion, sex, gender identity, disability or sexual orientation and develop the confidence to prevent it and report it
- Challenge gender and race stereotypes, as well as inequality, and promote equality and respect in relationships
- Know how to be safe online and behave respectfully and appropriately
- Know where and how to seek information and advice when they need help

8. Content and Organisation of Relationships Education

Where is Relationships Education taught?

Relationships Education will be taught through a planned programme within PSHE (Personal, Social, Health and Economic Education), taught as timetabled lessons in all year groups. Sometimes this will be organised as blocks of teaching e.g., teaching about preventing bullying to coincide with anti-bullying week or integrated into topics such as 'Me and My Family', 'Keeping Safe' and 'Online Safety'.

What is taught in Relationships Education?

Our Relationships Education programme:

- Reflects the statutory requirements in the DfE Guidance that describes what needs to be taught by the end of primary (see appendix 1)

- We have planned the curriculum so that the knowledge, skills and attitudes are appropriate to the age and maturity of pupils and progress from one year to another, building on what has been learnt in previous years.

Y1	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>To be able to identify different behaviours which might be bullying</li> <li>To differentiate between wants and needs</li> <li>To explore boy and girl needs and wants</li> <li>To celebrate being me - difference and similarities</li> <li>To teach children about personal information</li> <li>To understand personal information</li> <li>To identify places and people who make me feel safe</li> <li>To identify the qualities of a good friend</li> <li>To explain the importance of compliments</li> <li>To identify what to say to a new friend.</li> <li>To understand 'bad' secrets.</li> <li>To know there are different types of family and that all families have a special role in children's lives</li> <li>To understand that there are lots of different toys and that can be enjoyed by everyone, whether they are a boy or girl</li> </ul>
Y2	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>To identify what bullying is and how it makes people feel</li> <li>To understand conflict</li> <li>To explain what to do when conflict escalates</li> <li>To explain how to resolve conflict</li> <li>To explore life in different countries</li> <li>To understand what personal information is</li> <li>To understand who to trust online</li> <li>To explore gender stereotypes in careers</li> <li>To identify the qualities of a good friend</li> <li>To understand and learn the PANTS rules</li> <li>To understand that they have the right to say "no" to unwanted touch</li> <li>To introduce the concept of male and female and gender stereotypes</li> <li>To identify differences between males and females</li> <li>To know that everyone needs to be cared for</li> <li>To know how they can care for others</li> <li>To know about different types of families</li> <li>To know their home life is special</li> <li>To understand pride and recognise how it feels to be proud of someone else.</li> <li>To explain why you are proud of someone else</li> </ul>
Y3	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>To develop an awareness and definition of bullying and unkindness.</li> <li>Resolving conflict fairly</li> <li>To explore conflict, develop strategies to resolve it and know where to go to for help</li> <li>To understand what to do if a conflict escalates</li> <li>To understand how to stay safe online</li> <li>To identify the qualities of a good friend</li> <li>To know about stereotyping of males and females</li> <li>To understand the link between gender stereotyping and discrimination</li> <li>To explore family differences and challenge stereotyping</li> <li>To understand that people sometimes have stereotypes about families</li> <li>To know you can say no to bad touch</li> <li>To explore healthy relationships</li> </ul>
Y4	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>To develop an awareness of the role of victims, bullies and bystanders</li> <li>To understand that everything online is not trustworthy</li> <li>To make decisions on what they trust online using agreed criteria</li> <li>To understand how images are manipulated online</li> </ul>

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>To understand how stereotypes can label people</li> <li>To identify the qualities of a good friend</li> <li>To challenge gender stereotyping</li> <li>To understand aspects of discrimination</li> <li>To understand rights and responsibilities in a friendship</li> <li>To identify and resist pressurising and manipulative behaviour</li> <li>To understand how a child's online actions can affect others</li> </ul>
Y5	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>To explore the concept of fairness and how people decide what is fair and unfair</li> <li>To develop a greater understanding of the role of victims, bullies and bystanders</li> <li>To explore how and why people are excluded</li> <li>To understand reasons for migration</li> <li>To explore migration</li> <li>To understand content which may be appropriate or inappropriate to share online</li> <li>To identify appropriate people to turn to for help</li> <li>To understand gender stereotypes</li> <li>To identify the qualities of a good friend</li> <li>To know how to deal with feelings in relationships</li> <li>To develop a sense of belonging</li> </ul>
Y6	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>To explore ways in which human beings are similar and different</li> <li>To develop a greater understanding of the role of victims, bullies and bystanders</li> <li>To understand what trust means when online</li> <li>To understand the concept of appearance ideals</li> <li>To understand the stereotypes associated with homelessness</li> <li>To understand hidden homelessness</li> <li>To identify different tactics someone might use to manipulate another person online</li> <li>To know what to do if someone tries to pressure or manipulate them</li> <li>To begin to identify risks and risky behaviour</li> <li>To challenge gender stereotypes</li> <li>To identify the qualities of a good friend</li> <li>To know what constitutes a positive healthy relationship</li> <li>To know that relationships change over time</li> <li>To understand the difference between a healthy and unhealthy relationship</li> <li>To explore positive and negative ways to communicate in a relationship</li> <li>To know what is appropriate to share online including when it is appropriate to share personal/private information in a relationship</li> <li>To know some of the risks of meeting people online</li> </ul>

Teaching about difference and diversity

The Government guidance “expects all pupils to have been taught LGBTQ+ content at a timely point as part of this area of the curriculum”. We will not have specific LGBTQ+ lessons but through our teaching will help children to understand the society in which they are living and growing up in, as well as be respectful of others and difference.

This will mean that when pupils learn about families, we will include families with two mums and two dads and when pupils learn about marriage, they will learn that marriage can be between opposite sex and same sex couples. When children learn about bullying and discriminatory language, they will learn that this can happen because people are different or perceived to be different, and this can be because they have a different religion, are a different race, have a disability, or a different sexual orientation.

In Year 1

We teach a topic called ‘Families’ and children talk about their children’s families to understand that all families are different but that they all love and care for one another. We use story books that show a wide range of family structures, including families with two mums and two dads

From Year 2

We introduce the idea that other people's families may not be the same as our own, but that is OK, and that even though they are different, their love and care for one another is what is important and that we respect one another's differences. Children talk about their own family structures which might include families with one parent, with parents who are married, with parents that are not married, families with parents who are divorced where children might have parents and stepparents, families where children are living with relatives such as aunts, uncles and grandparents.

Teachers introduce a range of family structures to reflect the diversity within the school and within the community such as families where children are fostered and adopted and families where there are two mums and two dads. The diversity of families is included when children cover the topic of 'Families' in Key Stage 2.

Our library includes a range of information books and storybooks reflecting family diversity and our inclusive values. Age-appropriate books are introduced when the subject is being covered in class e.g., when teaching about families.

Teaching about different relationships

In Year 6, pupils learn that there are different types of romantic relationships, and that these can be between couples of the same and different sex. They learn a basic meaning of the words: heterosexual, gay and lesbian.

Teaching about preventing bullying and discriminatory language

We do not tolerate any type of bullying or discriminatory language, including using the word lesbian, gay, bisexual or transgender in an insulting or derogatory way. This is supported by our Positive Behaviour policy. The Equality Act 2010 requires schools to prevent all types of discrimination.

When we teach about bullying in Years 5 and 6, we cover all types of bullying and discriminatory language, including bullying based on race, religion, disability, gender, gender reassignment and sexual orientation. They also learn what homophobic, biphobic and transphobic bullying mean.

Pupils learn about the impact that bullying and discriminatory language have on people, how these can cause prejudice and discrimination and mental health problems and what we can do to prevent this happening.

How is Relationships Education taught?

- We recognise that teaching about some aspects of Relationships Education is sensitive. All teachers set a group agreement or ground rules with pupils to ensure that an atmosphere is created where pupils feel able to ask questions, discuss concerns, talk about feelings and relationships, understand about confidentiality, are respectful of one another and do not discuss or ask private information of each other or the teacher.
- We will emphasise the importance of strong and supportive relationships, including marriage and civil partnerships (between opposite and same sex couples), and that caring and loving relationships are at the heart of happy and secure family life.

- Teaching resources are chosen to ensure that they are appropriate to the age and maturity of pupils. They take into account equality of opportunity through their use of language, cultural attitudes, family make up and images, including body image, avoiding stereotyping, racism and sexism.
- A variety of teaching methods are used that enable pupils to participate and reflect on their learning, role play, quizzes, pair and small group work and mixing groups so that pupils work with a range of peers. We also use case studies, stories, puppets and role plays to help depersonalise discussions and help pupils gain confidence to talk and listen to each other.
- We ensure that the Relationships Education teaching programme is inclusive and is appropriate and relevant to all pupils, including those with SEND (Special Educational Needs and Disabilities). Where needed, Relationships Education is differentiated to meet the needs of pupils and specialist resources may be used to respond to their individual needs. In some cases, pupils have individual support or work in small groups.
- Teachers ensure that the content, approach and use of inclusive language reflect the diversity of the school community and wider society, and help all pupils feel valued and included, regardless of their gender, race, religion, ability, disability and family structure.
- Teachers do not discuss details of their personal relationships with pupils.

Answering children's questions

We answer questions honestly and sensitively, appropriate to the age and maturity of the pupils. Some questions may not be answered immediately if the teacher feels they need to consult with the Headteacher or parents. Some questions may be more appropriately answered on a one-to-one basis, rather than with the whole class. Classes also have talk boxes if a child has a question that they wish to ask in confidence.

Who teaches Relationships Education?

Relationships Education will be taught by the class teacher but sometimes outside organisations are involved e.g., a theatre company during Anti-Bullying Week.

If visitors are involved in Relationships Education, we will:

- Ensure their contribution is integrated into our scheme of work
- Provide the visitor with an up-to-date copy of the school's Relationships Education Policy and ensure they adhere to it
- Ensure that the class teacher is present throughout the lesson/session, taking responsibility for class management
- Follow-up the learning in subsequent lessons

Sex Education and the Right to Withdraw Children

In this school, we teach some Sex Education that is in addition to the Science National Curriculum. Sex Education is defined as teaching about sexual intercourse in the context of learning about how a baby is made and a basic understanding of pregnancy and how the baby develops. This is taught in Year 6, usually by the class teacher, and covers the following objectives:

- To know the difference between an adult intimate/loving relationship and other types of relationships
- To know how a baby is made (sexual intercourse)
- To know what pregnancy means
- To know how a baby is made and grows (conception and pregnancy)

Right to withdraw children from sex education

We hope that parents and carers will support this important part of children's education and we will make sure that all parents and carers know what we will be teaching and when. However, we understand that some parents may want to educate their children about these aspects of Sex Education and parents have the right to request that their child is withdrawn from any or all parts of Sex Education.

If a parent wishes to withdraw their child from the Sex Education lessons, they must arrange a meeting with a member of the Senior Leadership Team who will talk through their concerns and discuss the benefits of their child learning about Sex Education. If they decide to withdraw their child, work will be provided to do in another class. We will offer packs of the teaching materials if parents wish to use this with their children at home. Parents can talk to the PSHE Coordinator about the resources to support this.

Science National Curriculum

All primary schools are required to teach the Science National Curriculum which covers the biological aspects of Sex Education: growth and development, naming body parts, a basic understanding of the life process of reproduction and the human life cycle (see Appendix 1). Parents do not have the right to withdraw from Science.

Health Education and Puberty

All primary schools are required to teach statutory Health Education that includes teaching about puberty. We begin teaching about puberty in Year 4 as part of learning about the human life cycle and introduce basic information about the changes for boys and girls that happen at puberty. We continue in Year 5 with more detailed information about what happens at puberty including the physical and emotional changes and revisit this in Year 6.

How is Sex Education, biological aspects of science and puberty taught?

These are taught through PSHE and Science in mixed groups to ensure that boys and girls learn the same information. However, sometimes it is useful in Years 5 and 6 to include time when single sex groups can discuss issues with a teacher of the same gender.

When we teach the biological aspects of science, puberty (Year 5 and 6) and sex education (Year 6), we provide a question box so that pupils can anonymously ask questions and these are then answered by the class teacher.

9. Involving Pupils

To ensure that the Relationships Education programme meets the needs of pupils, the PSHE Coordinator involves the school council in reviewing and evaluating the programme each year.

The PSHE Coordinator also gathers feedback from teachers about pupils' engagement in the curriculum.

10. Confidentiality, Safeguarding and Child Protection

Although Relationships Education is not about personal disclosures and personal issues, it is possible that a pupil may disclose personal concerns or worries for themselves and others. Staff understand that they cannot promise pupils absolute confidentiality, in order to support and keep them safe, and pupils know this too.

If teachers are concerned in any way that a pupil is at risk of sexual or any other kind of abuse, they will talk to the Designated Safeguarding Lead and follow the school's Safeguarding and Child Protection procedures. If a pupil discloses to a teacher that they are sexually active, or are considering sexual activity, then this would be viewed as a child protection issue.

11. Assessing Relationships Education

Pupils' progress in learning in Relationships Education is assessed as part of the assessment in PSHE.

12. Monitoring and Evaluating Relationships Education

The PSHE Coordinator monitors teachers' planning to ensure Relationships Education is being taught.

Pupils and staff are involved in evaluating the Relationships Education teaching programme as part of the annual review of PSHE. There are discussions with staff about the impact of the curriculum on pupils' learning and their engagement in the learning and the School Council are involved in giving feedback about the PSHE curriculum.

13. Training for Staff

It is important that Relationships Education and Sex Education are taught by teachers that are knowledgeable, skilled and confident. We ensure that teachers have received up-to-date training and provide a range of training opportunities including school-based INSET, team teaching, classroom observations and external training courses provided by the Camden Health and Wellbeing Team and other organisations. Training could include:

- What to teach and when
- Leading discussions about attitudes and values
- Information updates
- Practising a variety of teaching methods
- Facilitating group discussions
- Answering questions
- Managing sensitive and controversial issues

14. Engaging and Involving Parents/Carers

We place the utmost importance on sharing responsibility with parents and carers for their children's education. We take account of religious and cultural views and aim to balance parental views with our commitment to comprehensive Relationships Education and compliance with the statutory guidance and Equality Act 2010.

We will let parents know what will be taught and when and the resources that will be used and particularly consult parents before Year 6 about what will be taught in Sex Education and the resources that will be used. We will take every opportunity to inform and involve parents and carers by:

- Consulting with parents when developing the Relationships Education policy and when it is reviewed
- Publishing the Relationships Education policy on the school website
- Providing information about content of the Relationships Education and Sex Education teaching programme as part of the termly information on the curriculum
- Inviting Year 6 parents to a meeting about what will be taught in Relationships and Sex Education and include tips for talking to their children about Relationships Education and Sex Education

15. Disseminating the Policy

A copy of this policy is on the school website. Copies are supplied to visitors who are involved in delivering Relationships Education or Sex Education. The policy will be reviewed every 2 years and parents and carers will be informed through the newsletter and school website.

Key Contacts

PSHE Coordinator: Lillie Rosenblatt

Governor with a lead on Relationships Education and Sex Education: Elizabeth Dormandy

Designated Safeguarding Lead: Faye Winslade

Appendix 1

Sex Education in National Curriculum Science

The programmes of study for science are set out year-by-year. Within each key stage, schools have the flexibility to introduce content earlier or later than set out in the programme of study. Schools can also introduce key stage content during an earlier key stage if appropriate.

Key Stage 1

Year 1

Animals, including Humans

- Identify, name, draw and label the basic parts of the human body and say which part of the body is associated with each sense.

Year 2

Animals, including Humans

- Notice that animals, including humans, have offspring which grow into adults.

Non-Statutory Guidance

- Pupils should be introduced to the basic needs of animals for survival, as well as the importance of exercise and nutrition for humans. They should also be introduced to the processes of reproduction and growth in animals. The focus at this stage should be on questions that help pupils to recognise growth; they should not be expected to understand how reproduction occurs.
- The following examples might be used: growing into adults can include reference to baby, toddler, child, teenager, adult.
- Pupils might work scientifically by observing, through video or first-hand observation and measurement, how different animals, including humans, grow.

Key Stage 2

Year 3

No content linked to SRE

Year 4

No content linked to SRE

Year 5

Living Things and Their Habitats

- Describe the life process of reproduction in some plants and animals.

Non-Statutory Guidance

- Pupils should find out about different types of reproduction, including sexual reproduction in animals.
- They might observe changes in an animal over a period of time (for example, by hatching and rearing chicks), comparing how different animals reproduce and grow.

Animals, including Humans

- Describe the changes as humans develop to old age.

Non-Statutory Guidance

- Pupils should draw a timeline to indicate stages in the growth and development of humans. They should learn about the changes experienced in puberty.
- Pupils could work scientifically by researching the gestation periods of other animals and comparing them with humans; by finding out and recording the length and mass of a baby as it grows.

Year 6

No content linked to SRE

Appendix 2

Statutory Content for Relationships Education

Topic	By the end of primary, pupils should know:
Families and people who care for me	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>○ that families are important for children growing up because they can give love, security and stability</li><li>○ the characteristics of healthy family life, commitment to each other, including in times of difficulty, protection and care for children and other family members, the importance of spending time together and sharing each other's lives.</li><li>○ that others' families, either in school or in the wider world, sometimes look different from their family, but that they should respect those differences and know that other children's families are also characterised by love and care for them.</li><li>○ that stable, caring relationships, which may be of different types, are at the heart of happy families, and are important for children's security as they grow up.</li><li>○ that marriage* represents a formal and legally recognised commitment of two people to each other which is intended to be lifelong.</li><li>○ how to recognise if family relationships are making them feel unhappy or unsafe, and how to seek help or advice from others if needed</li></ul> *marriage including both opposite sex and same sex couples
Caring friendships	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>○ how important friendships are in making us feel happy and secure, and how people choose and make friends.</li><li>○ the characteristics of friendships, including mutual respect, truthfulness, trustworthiness, loyalty, kindness, generosity, trust, sharing interests and experiences and support with problems and difficulties.</li></ul>

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>○ that healthy friendships are positive and welcoming towards others, and do not make others feel lonely or excluded.</li> <li>○ that most friendships have ups and downs, and that these can often be worked through so that the friendship is repaired or even strengthened, and that resorting to violence is never right.</li> <li>○ how to recognise who to trust and who not to trust, how to judge when a friendship is making them feel unhappy or uncomfortable, managing conflict, how to manage these situations and how to seek help or advice from others, if needed.</li> </ul>
Respectful relationships	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>○ the importance of respecting others, even when they are very different from them (for example, physically, in character, personality or backgrounds), or make different choices or have different preferences or beliefs.</li> <li>○ practical steps they can take in a range of different contexts to improve or support respectful relationships</li> <li>○ the conventions of courtesy and manners.</li> <li>○ the importance of self-respect and how this links to their own happiness.</li> <li>○ that in school and in wider society they can expect to be treated with respect by others, and that in turn they should show due respect to others, including those in positions of authority.</li> <li>○ about different types of bullying (including cyberbullying), the impact of bullying, responsibilities of bystanders (primarily reporting bullying to an adult) and how to get help.</li> <li>○ what a stereotype is, and how stereotypes can be unfair, negative or destructive.</li> <li>○ the importance of permission-seeking and giving in relationships with friends, peers and adults.</li> </ul>
Online relationships	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>○ that people sometimes behave differently online, including by pretending to be someone they are not.</li> <li>○ that the same principles apply to online relationships as to face-to-face relationships, including the importance of respect for others online including when we are anonymous.</li> <li>○ the rules and principles for keeping safe online, how to recognise risks, harmful content and contact, and how to report them.</li> <li>○ how to critically consider their online friendships and sources of information including awareness of the risks associated with people they have never met.</li> <li>○ how information and data is shared and used online.</li> </ul>
Being safe	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>○ what sorts of boundaries are appropriate in friendships with peers and others (including in a digital context).</li> <li>○ about the concept of privacy and the implications of it for both children and adults; including that it is not always right to keep secrets if they relate to being safe.</li> <li>○ that each person's body belongs to them, and the differences between appropriate and inappropriate or unsafe physical, and other, contact.</li> </ul>

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>○ how to respond safely and appropriately to adults they may encounter (in all contexts, including online) who they do not know.</li> <li>○ how to recognise and report feelings of being unsafe or feeling bad about any adult.</li> <li>○ how to ask for advice or help for themselves or others, and to keep trying until they are heard</li> <li>○ how to report concerns or abuse, and the vocabulary and confidence needed to do so.</li> <li>○ where to get advice e.g., family, school and/or other sources.</li> </ul>
--	--

Appendix 3

Statutory Content for Health Education (relevant to Relationships Education and Sex Education)

Topic	By the end of primary, pupils should know:
Changing adolescent body	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>○ key facts about puberty and the changing adolescent body, particularly from age 9 through to age 11, including physical and emotional changes.</li> <li>○ about menstrual wellbeing including the key facts about the menstrual cycle.</li> </ul>